

Band 9 Natural Sample Answer

"One foreign country I'd love to visit is Japan. It's in East Asia, and honestly, I've been fascinated by it for as long as I can remember. I first heard about Japan from movies and TV shows, but I've also seen tons of videos and documentaries about their culture, which made me even more curious. Everything about it seems so unique and exciting, you know? What makes Japan so interesting to me is how it's a mix of the old and the new. I mean, they have these ancient temples, beautiful cherry blossoms, and those cool tea ceremonies that feel so peaceful. At the same time, they're super advanced with their cutting-edge technology and cities like Tokyo, which look like they're from the future. Oh, and I've heard people in Japan are really polite and friendly, which is such a nice thing.

And of course, the food! I love Japanese cuisine, especially sushi and ramen. I've tried them here, but I'm sure the ones in Japan are way more authentic and delicious. It'd be amazing to try the food there and even see how they make it. So yeah, visiting Japan would be like a dream come true for me. It's such a fascinating place, and I hope I can experience it myself one day."
