Pepperoni is often put on a pizza. It is actually a type of cured sausage made from beef. "Cured" means salty to protect against bacteria which are dangerous for people. Sometimes cured sausages are made of turkey or chicken to reduce both fat and calories. Pepperoni is mixed with red pepper or other spices and takes a reddish colour. It is typically cut in small, thin circles. The word "pepperoni" means "big peppers" in Italian, though pepperoni has nothing to do with Italy. Its actual origin is not known yet. In English, there is an idiom "Let the cat out of the bag." It means to tell a secret. One day, a man went to the city to sell things. "I have a baby pig for sale. It won't cost much," he said. He held the animal above his head. He was lying. He offered the pig to a woman named Beth for one gold coin. She wanted to buy that pig because of low price. Beth gave him a coin. He gave her a bag and said, "Here's your pig." Beth looked at the bag. It was moving. She opened it to let the pig out. There was a cat inside. "He tricked me. It isn't correct," she said. Her friends stopped him. Someone said, "We need a fair person to solve this." They went to the judge. The judge asked, "Can you show how he did it?" "Look at his bag," said Beth.
