Jiaying

Hello and welcome to The English We Speak. I'm Jiaying...

Neil

... and I'm Neil. Hi, Jiaying. How are you? I've been looking for you! I've got something to show you...

Jiaying

Why are you talking to an empty chair? I'm here! And why are you wearing sunglasses? It's quite dark in here already.

No wonder you couldn't see me.

Neil

Oh! There you are. Check out my new vegan leather jacket, isn't it cool?

Jiaying

It is, but why are you trying to look so cool? Are you trying to be a cool cat?

Neil

Cool cat? What are you talking about?
There isn't a picture of a cat on my jacket.

Jiaying

No, Neil – I said you're trying to be a cool cat. We use this expression to describe a person who is exceptionally fashionable and trendy. It is also used to describe someone who is funny, charming, and quite often relaxed. It's thought to originate from the jazz scene.

Neil

Ahh that makes sense. That describes me perfectly! I'm a very cool cat! I never get stressed out and always look so trendy!

Jiaying

OK. Well, we can talk more about how cool you think you are after these examples.

Examples

Jethro is such a cool cat! He always dresses in the latest fashion.

Yuqing is so awesome to work with. She's funny and never gets stressed out. She's one cool cat!

I met Tano at a jazz music performance! He plays the saxophone and he's such a cool cat.

Jiaying

You're listening to The English We Speak from BBC Learning English, and we're talking about the expression 'cool cat'. We use it to say that someone is very stylish, trendy or relaxed – and it's associated with the jazz scene.

Neil

Now I know I'm a cool cat, I was thinking what type of cat I would be. Maybe a big cat, like a lion or tiger.

Jiaying

Well, do you know that this year is the Year of the Tiger?

Neil

Really? Well, I hope that everyone has an amazing Year of the Tiger!

Jiaying

Thanks. But, Neil, why are you wearing a fake leather jacket inside the building. Surely, you should wear that outside.

Neil

The heating isn't working, so I wore a cool jacket to keep warm. I'd rather be a cool cat than a cold person!

Jiaying

Haha – that makes total sense. Well, I hope you get warm soon. Bye, Neil!

Neil

Bye!
